

European Commission consults on animal cloning in food production

The European Commission (EC) is urging industry players, public bodies and ordinary citizens to take part in its consultation exercise on proposed measures on animal cloning in food production.

View the original article here: EC consults on animal cloning in food production – FoodProductionDaily.com