

Ready or not, genomics is coming to hospitals

This year, at a faster pace than many industry insiders anticipated, we're seeing genomics enter the world of real-life care for patients. It took researchers 13 years and about $3 billion to complete the Human Genome Project.

View the original article here: Ready or not, genomics is coming to hospitals – HealthLeaders Media