

Africa: New film sows Seeds of Freedom , anti-GM twist

A new film from the African Biodiversity Network (ABN) and the Gaia Foundation, narrated by actor Jeremy Irons, is set to explode pervasive myths about agriculture, development and Africa's ability to feed herself. At the heart of the film "Seeds of Freedom" is the story of seed, and its transformation from the basis of farming communities' agriculture to the property of agri-business.

View the original article here: Africa: New Film Sows Seeds of Freedom – African Farming Voices Challenge the GM Myth – AllAfrica.com