

Possible cure for cancer in decade

One of the men who discovered the structure of DNA has turned his mind to another scientific conundrum – the cure for cancer. Dr James Watson said that it should be possible to cure four in five of all cancer cases within a decade – but only if scientists revolutionise the way they approach the disease.

View the original article here: Possible cure for cancer in decade – DNA pioneer – Independent Online