

Scientists create GM fly with gene mutation similar to one that causes seizures in humans

Scientists have created fruit flies with a gene mutation analogous to one that causes epileptic seizures in people—a first in genetic engineering.

View the original article here: Futurity.org – To check out seizures, ‘knock-in’ genes