

Chefs back Prop. 37 on food labeling

More than 350 top chefs this week came out in favor of Proposition 37, the initiative that calls for labeling most foods containing genetically engineered ingredients, saying there is an “enormous stake in ensuring transparency in our food system.” Restaurateurs and chefs including Alice Waters, Mario Batali, Jacques Pépin, Charles Phan, Cat Cora and Joyce Goldstein have signed a petition of support.

View the original article here: Chefs back Prop. 37 on food labeling