

DNA evidence shows gypsies came from India

Modern-day gypsies, Europe's widespread Romani population, are now as diverse in language, lifestyle, and religion as any demographic but they all share a common past.

And that past started about 1,500 years ago in northwestern India, according to the first genome-wide perspective on Romani origins and demographic history.

View the original article here: DNA Evidence Shows Gypsies Began Their Exodus From India 1500 Years Ago