

Bioethics by Donna Dickenson: A review

Donna Dickenson, Emeritus Professor of Medical Ethics and Humanities at the University of London, has written a highly accessible guide to the ethical implications of biotechnology. It delves into questions about the limits of science, the problems raised by the patenting of genes, the role of the profit motive in medicine and the injustices spawned by reproductive technologies.

Additional Resources:

- "[Bioethics: All that Matters \[Review\]](#)," Times Higher Education
- "Book Review: Bioethics: All That Matters," BioNews

View the original article here: Review: Bioethics: All That Matters by Donna Dickenson