

DNA technique reveals looks of long-dead Humans

The color of the eyes and hair of ancestors dead for hundreds of years can now be revealed from their DNA alone, researchers say.

These findings suggest investigators not only can uncover new details from centuries-old human remains, but can also help identify crime victims, scientists added.

View the original article here: DNA Technique Reveals Looks of Long-Dead Humans