

EU health commissioner to prioritise talks on GM crop bans

The following is an excerpt.

EU health commissioner Tonio Borg intends to prioritise discussions with key European member states about permissible grounds for banning cultivation of genetically modified (GM) crops in individual countries, according to a spokesperson for the commissioner.

View the original article here: EU health commissioner to prioritise talks on GM crop bans