

Does IVC cause more cancer in children or not?

The short answer is we don't know. But another news story is out on a study that raises more questions than it answers regarding the harm to children born via IVF.

First, we have to realize that IVF is a relatively new technology of only the last 30 or so years. The sample sizes for studying the effects of IVF on children will be small. We are learning as we go, but more problematic is that we are learning ON our children as we go.

In the desperation to have a child, no matter what, some may be willing to gamble on their children's health and well-being.
