

Regulatory and safety status of global GM commodity crops

Currently there are fourteen varieties of the five genetically modified commodity food crops: alfalfa, canola, sugar beet, soybean and corn. GMO Answers, the industry-run website, released a chart that outlines the regulatory and safety status of each crop in 23 countries.

See the chart here: GMO Safety Reviews and Approvals from Around the World