

Video: World Food Prize kicks off–Norman Borlaug's legacy and challenges of global hunger

The World Food Prize annual gathering is being held this week in Iowa. Julie Borlaug, the granddaughter of Norman Borlaug, father of the Green Revolution, talks to RealAgriculture's Debra Murphy about what made her grandfather a great scientist her thoughts are on organic agriculture and the urban agriculture movement, whether or we are talking enough about distribution in global food security and where agriculture will go in the next 50 years.

Read full original article: Julie Borlaug Kicks Off International Biotechnology Conference in Saskatoon