

Podcast: South Australian farmers want access to GMO crops as moratorium debate rages

ABC reports on debate over South Australia's GMO moratorium. Flinders MP Peter Treloar states that he has not seen any evidence of a price premium for non-GM crops in South Australia. He believes growers should have access to the latest technologies.

<https://geneticliteracyproject.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/rural-sa-premium-price-sa-181217.mp3>

Read full, original article: Does GM free mean premium price?